

Greetings

I recently had the opportunity to attend the Barnett Symposium on the Arts and Public Policy (<http://uas.osu.edu/program/2010-lawrence-and-isabel-barnett-symposium>). This year's theme was International Cultural Connections: The Times, They Are A'Changin. From Columbus to Kettering to Washington, DC to Santiago, Chile, our cultures are becoming increasingly connected and new strategies for cultural exchanges are emerging. At VSA Ohio we strive to connect Ohioans with valuable resources, opportunities, and information from around the world to advance your involvement in the arts. As advertised over the past few months, it is finally time for the 2010 VSA International Festival, which will convene in Washington, DC June 6 - 12. I am proud to say Ohio will be well represented among the participating 50 states and 51 countries.

_The Dancing Wheels Company (Cleveland) - will perform as part of Locomotion, which will feature 3 dance companies from Massachusetts, Florida, and Ohio, June 7, Sidney Harman Hall.

_Adrian Colton (grade 3, Donnelsville) - Ohio's winner for the CVS All Kids Can....Create! exhibition, State of the Art. The exhibition will debut at Washington, D.C.'s Union Station from May 24 - June 12, 2010 before beginning a two-year tour to children's museums across the country

_Leni Anderson (Columbus) and Jon Berge (Columbus) had visual art accepted into Revealing Culture, a groundbreaking exhibition of contemporary art on display at the Smithsonian Institution's International Gallery from June 8 - Aug. 29

International Education Conference Presentations:

_Lalene Kay & David Kay (Cleveland) will present a music-making workshop, Traditional American Blues - Everyone Join In!

_Derek Mortland will present Stones Floating on Water, a multi-media performance and discussion with 4 other teaching artist fellows

_Derek Mortland & Erin Hoppe will present Teaching Curriculum Inclusively Through the Arts, and highlight VSAO's Adaptation, Integration, and the Arts program

_Patty Mitchell (consultant, Athens) will present Pathways to Employment- Artist Training Studios: Integrating Art and Career Development with several other panelists

Ohio is home to many talented and dedicated individuals working to express themselves creatively, build community and understanding through the arts, and make an impact on our economy and society. As times rapidly change and the need to connect in new and unique ways grows, VSAO will work with you. This summer we will unveil a mural celebrating the 20th anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities act, a brand new www.vsao.org, and new partnership opportunities. Stay tuned for a report from the International Festival and other exciting opportunities!

All the best, Erin Hoppe, executive director

Call for Art: ADA Mural Project, deadline extended! - Monday, June 7

The 20th Anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) this July is a milestone for disability rights, and celebrations are planned throughout the country. VSA Ohio will mark the advancement of individuals with disabilities, while recognizing the work still to do, at the intersection of art and community with a mural. With support from the Ohio Rehabilitation Services Commission the mural will be unveiled at the Ohio Statehouse on July 26 then tour the state to advocate for arts and disability issues.

Individuals and artists with disabilities from across Ohio are asked to consider the impact of the ADA on your life as a person with a disability, on your life as an artist, how it has opened doors in your community, and/or your expectations for the next 20 years under the ADA. VSA Ohio invites Ohio artists with disabilities and all Ohioans to submit their reflections in the form of sketches, photographs, paintings, sculpture, poetry, and short stories.

Master muralist Kong Ho will oversee the design and construction of the mural and try to incorporate all entries. A number of artists will be selected to visit Columbus and assist with the mural creation in late July. For details of the project, call for art, and how to submit entries visit www.vsao.org and click on the Call for Art document, available for download in rich text format. For additional information contact Derek or Erin at 614-241-5325.

Service Divisions at work in Ohio Communities

Local groups of committed individuals and organizations have helped to make VSA Ohio truly a statewide service organization since its founding in 1986. This year VSAO welcomes two new service divisions: Southwest Ohio and Athens County. Southwest will support a theater performance and Athens will host a gallery Q&A with artists. VSAO looks forward to deepening our partnerships with these regions.

VSA Ohio/Wayne Center for the Arts & Tri-County ESC

Project Partnership is a year-long community partnership that brings approximately 100 high school special education students from Ashland, Holmes, and Wayne County schools to Wayne Center for art-making activities designed to teach self-sufficiency, advocacy, and determination throughout the year. This May the 15th annual program culminated with extended time for students in an art form of their choice, pizza lunch, and a performance by Dancing Wheels. Congratulations on another great year that demonstrated the power of the arts to increase participation, adaptation, and team work!

VSA Ohio/Cleveland Area

The Arts Along the Midway was held on May 13 at the Cuyahoga County Fair Grounds. Hundreds of individuals with and without disabilities enjoyed an array of art-making activities, performances, a visit from NASA, and award presentations by local TV celebrity, Robin Swaboda-Wagner. Great job on creating another inclusive, accessible, and fun art experiences for participants of all abilities!

Arte Postale: An International Visual Arts and Writing Exchange

Arte Postale is an inclusive international visual arts exchange program designed for classroom students with and without disabilities. The program creates valuable cross-cultural educational experiences by forming relationships between students as they study and communicate about their lives. Students learn to express themselves in artistic ways through this inclusive approach to visual art in the classroom. Their creativity and views of the world develop as their imagination travels to remote lands and they discover the richness of other cultures. Open to students ages 7-14 with or without disabilities and teachers with all levels of visual arts experience. Visit <http://www.vsarts.org/x1484.xml> for more information on how to get involved.

VSA Online Artist Registry

VSA's online artist listing is an extension of VSA's Artists Registry that includes over 1,600 visual, performing, and literary artists with disabilities. The Artists Registry is the leading source for the selection of artists to participate in VSA's programs and events and fulfilling partner requests. Members receive announcements on upcoming calls for talent, regular electronic broadcasts, and VSA's informative newsletters. Artists have the opportunity to be featured in the online listing that connects artists directly to visitors of VSA's Web site. Soon, members will have exclusive access to an online community of artists for networking and queries through discussion boards. Learn more at <http://www.vsarts.org/prebuilt/artists/registry/artistlisting.cfm>.

ADA Survey - How do people with disabilities in Ohio rate their community's implementation of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)? This survey asks citizens to identify how they view their community's current implementation and provide opinions and ideas about how accessibility can be improved. People with disabilities, their family members, and their advocates are invited to complete the ADA Survey so that their voices are heard when accessibility issues are being addressed in their communities. The Survey is available online at <http://www.TheADASurvey.org>. To request the ADA Survey in an alternative format contact L. Scott Lissner at 614-292-6207.

New DOJ publication: Access To Medical Care For Individuals With Mobility Disabilities

The US Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, has issued a new technical assistance publication titled, "Access To Medical Care For Individuals With Mobility Disabilities." This 19-page publication provides guidance for medical care professionals on the ADA's requirement to provide accessible health care to individuals with mobility disabilities and includes an overview of general ADA requirements, commonly asked questions, and illustrated examples of accessible facilities, examination rooms, and medical equipment. Available on-line at http://www.ada.gov/medcare\_ta.htm.

Resources

Disability Nondiscrimination Law Advisor

The U.S. Department of Labor has unveiled a new tool to help America's employers ensure their employment policies and practices do not discriminate against qualified individuals with disabilities. "Today, we made it easier for employers of all sizes to access the talents of the 36 million Americans with disabilities," said Assistant Secretary of Labor for Disability Employment Policy Kathleen Martinez. "By providing this interactive and easy-to-use online tool, both workers and employers can readily access and understand their rights and responsibilities under our federal disability nondiscrimination laws." The online Disability Nondiscrimination Law Advisor, available at <http://www.dol.gov/elaws/odep.htm>, helps employers quickly and simply determine which federal disability nondiscrimination laws apply to their business or organization and their responsibilities under them.

Creating an Inclusive Environment: A Handbook for the Inclusion of People with Disabilities in National and Community Service Programs

This handbook provides information about creating an inclusive environment, a brief historical overview of social perceptions of people with disabilities, disability-related laws, how to write inclusive service descriptions, recruitment and outreach, and accommodations issues and legal requirements. Available at <http://www.serviceandinclusion.org/handbook/index.php>.

Fractured Atlas Offers Free Online Classes for Artists

Fractured Atlas, a nonprofit arts support organization based in New York City, has announced its online courses for artists will now be offered free of charge. There are currently six courses on topics such as marketing, fundraising, and professional identity and two video workshops on independent contractors vs. employees and a wellness program for dancers, with more to be added during the coming months. These courses provide a great introduction to the confusing and daunting process of being a professional independent artist. Courses include embedded video segments by experts, optional assignments, opportunities to participate in discussions on their message boards, and links to further resources. You must sign up to be a member of Fractured Atlas in order to access the courses-membership is free. Visit <http://courses.fracturedatlas.org>.

Keep Arts In Schools.org

Keep Arts in Schools is a website for arts education advocates (<http://www.KeepArtsInSchools.org/index.php>). The website is an online community for arts education advocates, focusing on the efforts and successes of local organizations, communities, teachers and leading voices throughout the country who are all working to Keep Arts in Schools. There are useful tools for arts education advocates, including an advocacy toolkit, research, and testimonials. This is a project of the Ford Foundation's Integrating the Arts and Education Reform initiative. Cleveland, Ohio has been involved with Keep Arts in School through the Cleveland Integrated Arts Collaborative, which is a consortium of more than 30 arts and cultural organizations, was spearheaded by Young Audiences of Northeast Ohio and partners closely with the Cleveland Metropolitan School District.

Ohio Provides Grant Funding Toward New Arts School Construction

"The state will provide financial aid toward the construction of a new, state-of-the-art building for the School of Creative and Performing Arts in Over the Rhine. State Rep. Dale Mallory announced the State Controlling Board's decision to approve spending $4 million toward the project. The grant will be used to reimburse the Cincinnati Public School District for some of its expenses on the school. 'For nearly 40 years, the School of Creative and Performing Arts has been a shining star in our community that attracts students from every corner of the state and region,' said Mallory. 'The state's investment in the new building marks a continued commitment to our talented young people who have an interest and passion for the arts.' The new school building will be the nation's first K-12 public school devoted to the arts." Read more of the 5/24/10 WLWT-TV article, <http://bit.ly/9O7jBf>.

Columbus Museum of Art Announces $1.5 million gift

"The family of William and Sarah Ross Soter have donated $1.5 million to the Columbus Museum of Art to endow a new curator of photography position. Photography has long been a passion of the Soter family, and they have contributed a significant collection to the museum in the past. 'This gift will ensure that the photography program continues to grow in scope and prominence. I hope it will also inspire others to follow their own passions, endowing other positions that resonate with them,' said Sarah Ross Soter. Read more of the Foundation Center article here:

Governor Strickland Praises Cleveland Arts District's Economic Impact

"Governor Ted Strickland touted the Gordon Square Arts District when he addressed about 200 business and civic leaders gathered for a leadership breakfast [last week] at the recently renovated Capitol Theatre. Strickland said the district is a great example of how to create jobs and investment in a city neighborhood. 'You are creating long-term economic growth and new jobs,' said Strickland. 'In the short term, you are creating construction jobs. In fact, dollar for dollar, an investment in a building rehabilitation project creates more jobs than an investment even in a highway construction project.' Team NEO, an economic clearinghouse for the 16 counties in Ohio's northeast corner, has tracked the economic impact of the arts district as a dramatic $317 million in Cleveland alone through 2013." ### Michael Kaiser to Continue as Kennedy Center President Michael M. Kaiser, president of The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts since 2001, has agreed to remain in his post through 2014-past the scheduled expiration of his contract next year. "Congress has called on us to be a national culture center, and I take that nomenclature very seriously," Mr. Kaiser told the Washington Post on May 5. In addition, Michigan philanthropists Betsy and Dick DeVos announced that they are donating $22.5 million to continue the arts training work that Kaiser initiated at the Kennedy Center. With that unprecedented support, Kaiser will remain part of the Kennedy Center's leadership structure through 2017, directing what will be named the DeVos Institute of Arts Management. Kaiser will assume that role in late 2014, after his contract extension as president is complete." Read the Washington Post article here.

Students with disabilities opt for arts, not IT

"A study suggests that students with disabilities are more likely to study the creative arts than any other subject. The analysis by Danielle Farrel, a research assistant at the University of the West of Scotland who is herself disabled, found that contrary to popular belief, students with disabilities are less likely to study technical subjects such as IT..."
